the a my to state that the temporary reduction of rations has been caused by circumstances beyond | equal to any in the West, of the control of those charged with its support. Its welfare and comforts are objects of his constant and earnest solicitude, and no efforts have been spared to provide for its wants. It is hope i that exertions now being made will render the necessity of but short duration, but the history of the army has shown that the country can require no sacrifice too great for its patriotic devotion. Soldiers, you tread with no unequal steps the road by which your fathers marched, through suffering, privation and blood, to independence; continue to emulate, in the future as you have in the past, their valur in arms, their patient endurance of hard-hips, their high resolve to be free, which no trial could shake, no bribe seduce, no danger appal, and he assured that the just God who crowned their efforts with success, will, in his own good time, send down his blessings R E.
